Subject: COMPLAINT & SUBMISSION OF PROOF ON BEHALF OF MR. ALI ZAFAR EVIDENCING THE PERSONAL VENDETTA OF CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS TO MALIGN HIM ON SOCIAL/PRINT MEDIA IN APPARENT VIOLATION OF THE PREVENTION OF ELECTRONIC CRIMES ACT, 2016 (“ the 2016 Act”)

It is respectfully submitted that:

1. The Complainant, Mr. Ali Zafar, is a renowned celebrity and an internationally acclaimed artist and as part of the performing industry he is heavily reliant on his professional and personal reputation. He is recipient of numerous national and international awards and is a respectable, law abiding and responsible member of the society. He has a huge fan following out of which many consider him as their idol. The fame that he has received in Pakistan and worldwide is the result of years of hard work. The Complainant strictly believes in the highest of professional standards.
2. It is pertinent to note that the Complainant, despite having been in the entertainment industry for over 20 years, has never been faced with an organized attempt to tear down his public image by spreading untrue and false information about his character or demeanor towards women.
3. Only recently, he has been made a target of a severely misleading social media campaign which attempts to accuse and portray Complainant as a sexual predator, and has disseminated to the public-at-large phony stories of Complainant's conduct. The said campaign has now continued for over a year now which has multiplied in magnitude and caused Complainant and his family irreparable emotional, psychological and financial harm.
4. If the record as reproduced herein is perused, it becomes apparent that the social media accounts are part of a systemized and collective effort to defame and damage Complainant's reputation and livelihood by continually posting derogatory, insulting, inciting and insinuating remarks against the Complainant and his character on various social media forums such as Twitter, Instagram and Facebook. The language used in such posts/comments is extremely vulgar evidencing the ulterior motives of certain individuals to malign Complainant to the extent of public shame.

5. To the best of Complainant's knowledge, this campaign had taken root from a comment posted on Complainant's Manager, Taha Sadaqat's social media account on Instagram on 02.02.2018. A user by the name of 'sana_samir_91' made the following threatening comment: *"And I must say you are going to have a lot of work on your hands when we all take your pervert client to the cleaners close to his movie release. Enjoy"*¹. The aforesaid comment visibly demonstrates that perpetrators of this social media campaign had at a very strategic time – release of Complainant's anticipated film – decided to smear his reputation. This was followed by appearances of other such fake accounts, such as nehasaigoli, that carried on a planned narrative of threatening and labeling Complainant as a harasser and pervert.
6. On 19.04.2018 Ms. Meesha Shafi, to further the cause of the baseless campaign, made patently false and bald allegations on Twitter against the Complainant alleging sexual harassment. Her first tweet did not contain any details of the incident but on 21.04.2018 in an interview published in the 'InStep Today' (The News) Ms. Meesha Shafi claimed to have been sexually harassed by the Complainant twice. Again, no further details were given of the alleged first incident but in respect of the alleged second incident it was claimed to have taken place during a jamming session at Lahore. However, on 23.06.2018 the Complainant categorically denied said allegations as being patently false and announced to pursue his legal remedies against Ms. Meesha Shafi for defamation. On 23.06.2018, the Complainant instituted a suit against Ms. Shafi before the learned District Judge, Lahore wherein vide Order dated 23.06.2018 the learned Court restrained Ms. Shafi from making any derogatory remarks against the Complainant. The case is pending adjudication.

7. In response to the defamation suit, Ms. Shafi discreetly preferred a complaint against the Complainant before the Federal Ombudsman for Protection against Harassment of Women at Workplace which was subsequently dismissed.
8. Notwithstanding the dismissal of Ms. Shafi's complaint by the Federal Ombudsman, her sympathizers and accomplices continued to make derogatory remarks against the Complainant, his family and colleagues in an extensive social media campaign, in direct contradiction to the injunctive order dated 23.06.2018 and provisions of the 2016 Act. It is rather critical to note that the narrative used to defame him was repeatedly endorsed and propagated with the help of a number of fake accounts and few bloggers. The said accounts have collectively managed to post thousands of tweets against the Complainant while tagging important people and publications. Moreover, many tweets posted by such accounts were then quoted in prominent and credible national and international publications. It is also noteworthy that few prominent journalists have also been a part this false narrative sketched out against the Complainant.
9. Given that social media has been abused from the very outset to spread false information about the Complainant causing intimidation, loss of reputation, and invasion of privacy, the same amounts to a clear violation of Section 20 and Section 25 of the 2016 Act. In view of above it is imperative that FIA not only investigates violations of the 2016 Act, but also seeks to protect the victim i.e. the Complainant of this smear campaign from being harassed online by taking down such abusive and defamatory social media posts, comments, pages and accounts. An account of the false propaganda against Complainant on social media is appended herewith for your kind perusal.
10. It is hereby conferred that Ms. Shafi's Lawyer Ms. Nighat Dad is a common connection with other women and a fake account "Neha Saigoll" that made false allegations against Mr. Zafar and were a part of the smear campaign against him. Most of these women or people involved in smear campaign are associated directly or indirectly with Ms. Nighat Dad or her NGO, the Digital Rights Foundation that claims to work for on line digital rights, however is working in conflict with its own mandate.
11. In light of the above, serious action should be taken against the following accounts:
 - i. Meesha Shafi (Artist)

Sharing this because I believe that by speaking out about my own experience of sexual harassment, I will break the culture of silence that permeates through our society. It is not easy to speak out.. but it is harder to stay silent. My conscience will not allow it anymore #MeToo 🙌

the unconditional love and support and that has been a blessing. It has allowed me space to be brave and to often speak up about issues. However, despite having a voice, there are some issues that are very difficult to speak about as a woman, especially sexual harassment.

Today, I speak up because my conscience does not allow me to be silent anymore. if this can happen to someone like me, an established artist, then it can happen to any young woman and that concerns me gravely.

I have been subjected, on more than one occasion, to sexual harassment of a physical nature at the hands of a colleague from my industry: Ali Zafar. These incidences did not happen when I was young, or just entering the industry. This happened to me despite the fact that I am an empowered, accomplished woman who is known for speaking her mind! This happened to me as a mother of two children.

No woman is ever safe from sexual harassment. In our society, we hesitate to speak up and choose to stay silent and this emboldens sexual harassment to flourish. We must collectively use our voices to share stories so that we break this culture of silence and so that young women today are safer.

It has been an extremely traumatic experience for me and my family. Ali is someone I have known for many years and someone who I have shared the stage with. I feel

- ❖ Meesha Shafi, who has been friends with Ali Zafar and his wife Ayesha Fazli since many years, accused Ali Zafar of sexual harassment on Twitter at 3:45 pm claiming that he had harassed her several times over the years.
- ❖ This statement is directly in contradiction to Meesha Shafi's social media accounts - Twitter, Facebook and Instagram – wherein she has posted pictures with Ali Zafar on numerous occasions. Some of these pictures are attached below.

- ❖ This picture was posted by Meesha Shafi on her Twitter account after her latest performance with Ali Zafar. However, the same was discretely deleted a few days before she made the accusation.

It is pertinent to note that in her reply to Ali Zafar's defamation suit against her, she quotes that one of the incidents where she was harassed was at Ali Zafar's wife Ayesha Fazli's birthday party.

- ❖ Thereafter, she posts another picture from the same birthday party on her Instagram giving photo credit to her “alleged” harasser Ali Zafar.

The kind of role journalists like Hamid Mir plays is the reason why women dare to march when they know their mere existence on their own roads, in their own cities will become a threat to their lives. Where victim is silenced by court but alleged harasser gets prime time.

On 19th April 2018, after Meesha Shafi posted a false and malicious accusation against Ali Zafar on her twitter account, an article written by Ms. Hamna Zubair titled 'Meesha Shafi accuses Ali Zafar of sexual harassment, encourages women to break 'culture of silence'' was published on 'Dawn Images' at 3:56, 11 minutes after Meesha's accusation, without publishing Ali Zafar's side of story.

Ms. Hamna Zubair has been actively involved in smear campaign against Mr. Zafar since Ms Shafi's allegation against all ethics of journalism. As editor of Dawn Images, Miss Hamna Zubair not only used her personal twitter account but also Dawn's platform to post and publish various defamatory and derogatory remarks and articles against Mr Zafar including his film Teefa in Trouble. She was also a part of the protests against his film on the day of the premier in Karachi. Evidence regarding the same is in Part II of this file on page 68.

This was on a boat on the way to a party at the Yacht Club between 2004-2005. Why don't I remember the date? Bc this is what's crazy: in those days such sexual harassment was such a non issue and simultaneously such a taboo that we hardly spoke about it

Thank you @itsmeeshashafi for your courage and your bravery. It's never easy. But that should never silence us. I am in total solidarity with you. You are not alone in this because #Metoo 🙌 #TimesUp ⚖️ #WeBelieveYou

Seeing Meesha's courage it's impossible for me not to speak now, not only in support of her but also to say she's not alone. I'm ending my silence too. Harassment comes in many ways. In the many years I have known Ali, he has on several occasions crossed boundaries of what is appropriate behavior between friends. I have chosen to ignore it out of respect for his family, but today I feel like I must speak my truth in light of recent revelations. His behavior displays a clear lack of respect for women. Inappropriate contact, groping, sexual comments should not fall in the grey area between humor and indecency. Comments that make your skin crawl and make you feel objectified are not to be reduced to 'a joke' such behaviors can leave women feeling embarrassed, small and reduced to the level of entertainment at the hands of a man. It's harassment. In such cases most women like myself run from such a situation and hope to God you never cross paths again. And when by some misfortune you do, you hide from him. Hoping his sleazy eyes and hands don't find you again. His hands don't make their way up and down your waist or hold you too tight while you desperately try to wiggle and run. As women we are told to ignore and repress such incidents. As have I. Today I speak out because of recent events between Meesha and Ali and today I have to find the courage to say she isn't and has not been alone. I have witnessed and experienced this as well. The memories of the times where Ali thought he could get away by saying vulgar things to me still disgusts me. If men can understand this today and stop women would feel safer. And not be victim blamed. It's never easy to come out and say this knowing well in advance the aftermath.

Khadija appealed to the Supreme Court. She reached out to me for advice on how to use the internet to spread the word about the case. When cases are pending in courts, you are not allowed to talk publicly about them. But Khadija was like, "I'm not going to stop, because I know that Hi! Before you go on, please note this is difficult for me to put out there, but I'm just going to. So, in response to Meesha Shafi's post, here's the thing. One and a half year ago I was at an event and I kind of saw Ali Zafar there. I was with my husband and my friends. I was very excited to see him and so I left the group and decided to go and get a selfie with him just like any fan would. So, amidst the crowd and everyone, I made my way to him and asked, 'can I get a selfie with you?' He didn't say anything, he gave me a smirk (NOT smile) and gestured by opening one of his arms with what I took as a yes. I came and stood right next to him and was about to click that photo when I felt his hand go up the side of my waist. GO UP MY WAIST properly, clearly. I don't want to be too explicit. I felt it, and I KNEW what happened - like I knew. But I thought I was crazy. Kind of. But I wasn't sure. I thought I misunderstood, and was thinking things lol but I also knew. I was lying to myself. I KNEW what had just happened.

I instantly went and told my friends what happened though. I don't know if they believed me, but at least they pretended to, and we agreed that he might have been on something and probably not in his senses. and today - I got a couple of WhatsApp messages from my friends when I got home after a long day that Meesha had spoken, and that they've remembered it had happened to me too. My heart sank. All of a sudden, I realized IM NOT CRAZY. I wasn't crazy. I was making excuses for him in my head and thinking I'm thinking things but I wasn't. It happened. I took ages to decide whether I should write this, because my family, brother, mother, everyone will find out. And will people even believe me? And am I messing with someone who might have too much power? Am I messing with someone who might not even remember doing this and says I'm a liar? Will the world hate me? Maybe he really doesn't remember. Be he did what he did. He did this. And after much thinking, I figured if I'm not going to use my voice to support Meesha after going through this, then that's wrong. My voice is my power and my responsibility, and I'm going to use it for the right thing. I know this is controversial and I try not to indulge in that sort of stuff and I'm scared, but I'm just going to do this.

So, here's the truth. Meesha's legal team right the wrongs being spread through a malicious, vile campaign by the alleged sexual harasser Ali Zafar. Oh yes, we can call him an alleged sexual harasser because he has not been exonerated by the court. Meesha's appeal is pending before Lahore High Court.

And not just an alleged sexual harasser, but we can also call him a liar and fibber. I wonder if a case can be filed on him for spreading misinformation about judiciary and an attempt to mislead the court.

And this year's Lux Style Award for the Best Actor goes to...

Saw Ali Zafar crying on Geo TV in Shehzad Iqbal's show Naya Pakistan. His sobs broke my heart; his pain crushed my soul; his misery burnt my liver; his tears fell on kidneys and flooded them and his sorrow punctured my lungs. I felt drained of energy. Hye, hye, hye ae tu kee kaar ditta...

Once, after having picked up pieces of my my shattered vital organs, I recovered after eating a full, size of a football watermelon, half of Bombay Bakery's notoriously delicious butter icing cake and four kababs. When low blood sugar levels went up, blood circulation became normal, and oxygen supply got restored to my brain, it dawned upon me that all that I had heard before. Saw before. Read before. Not once, twice or thrice... But numerous times.

I got so lost in his impactful narrative, powerful expression and heart touching style that I for that I am no spring chicken and have seen several cases of abuse, harrasement and sexual harrasement in my life. And all abusers and harrasers had the same or similar patterns, words and behaviour.

What a brilliant stroke, mesmerising performance... Rula diya paglay ne And full marks to Shehzad Iqbal and Geo for a stunning production. Not a single loophole Superb script, sharp editing, flawless direction... In fact, next year's Lux Style Award for Supporting Actor will definitely go to Geo Anchor Shehzad Iqbal. He was on cue.

How can I forget the tickers? They deserve a Special Jury Mention. Hope LSA Film Jury, specially the head, must have noticed and written them down. Awam ke dilon mein ghar kya havekiyaan ban gayee hongy.

Hope, Ali Zafar will not forget Geo and Shehzad Iqbal while delivering his acceptance speech at the Lux Style Awards this year. Not far away. His speech writers must get started.

Trust me, if I were a 'neutral' , ordinary viewer, I'd start hating Meesha Shafi. Only if I didn't know how media and harrasers work, independently and together, both. Only if...

Ali Zafar has filed a defamation case against Meesha Shafi. How typical to deflect attention from the real issue of Sexual Harassment. Meesha is under a gagging order from the court. How very typical as women usually don't get justice from or judicial system on such matters. Khadija is a recent example and before her Mukhtaran Mai. Patari's leaked screenshots stand witness to the alleged pressure exerted by Team Ali Zafar so do screen shots of tweets of various bloggers. And now the tweets of another girl adds one more target of Ali Zafar's alleged high handed, drunk-on- power, sexual advances. So, how many women will it take for our system, patriarchal people to stop strengthening Misogyny and start taking such complaints seriously?

Mohsin Sayeed

Most probably Ali Zafar hasn't heard of the age old saying, 'practice what you preach'. This his statement given last night on Geo Nautanki and following is the tweet that posted earlier and is still on his Twitter. Just goes to show how truthful and sincere he is about the whole issue. Talk about hypocrisy!

Eesha: "Proof? Consel, maen yeh prove kaisay kar sakti hoon (how can prove it?)"

Brilliant! This little video not attacks the issue of sexual harrasement how it's dealt with in Pakistan, but also reflects the heinous Blasphemy issue. Thank you, Iffat Umar for digging this video. All patriarchs and sexist, regardless of gender, are warned not to watch it as it cannot penetrate through the thick depths of patriarchy, misogyny and casual sexism you are buried under.

Legal/Factual summary of sexual harassment claim of @itsmeeshashafi ag Ali Zafar. @CapitalTV_News @Dawn_News @dawn_com @Sabhamid @geonews_urdu @timesofindia @Benazir_Shah @nighatdad @92newschannel @BBCUrdu @ExpressNewsPK @hamnazubair @saqibjillani @NeoNewsUR @24NewsHD @cnnbrk

Being ignored (noted by @itsmeeshashafi) with a private PC company, which found her to work alongside Ali Zafar, and specifically a clause therein which states that the company did not accept an employee's employment to be able.

On 14th June 2018, the Order was challenged before the Office of the Governor, who by his Order dated 13.07.2018 (the 'Governor's Order'), directed the same as the similar grounds, as held by the Judge's order.

Meanwhile, through filing of a constitutional writ petition before the Lahore High Court, a challenge to the Governor's Order & the Judge's Order, as having been passed illegally, with a constitutional impugnation by failing to exercise the jurisdiction vested in both the bodies.

GROUND OF CHALLENGE

Governor and the Judge's Order failing owing to its failure to consider the following while passing the Governor's Order and the Judge's Order, respectively:

A. That the purpose of the Act is to allow women to move from the workplace without sexual harassment hindering their progress in society and their ability to add to the national GDP, is possible for the study and their families, and to become productive valuable members of society. The Governor's Order goes beyond excluding Meeha from protection under the Act as a technicality - who is as much prohibited even in the law it intends to identify to achieve this aim. This is a grossly negligent and at worst prejudicial, discriminatory, and unlawful action against Meeha.

B. The Purpose of the Act is to guarantee a safe working environment for women and men, which is free of harassment, abuse and intimidation with a view toward to 30% of their right to work with dignity.

C. Meeha's Complaint clearly lays out a case of sexual harassment, which Ali Zafar suffered at the hands of Ali Zafar. Sexual harassment defined in Section 2(3) of the Act, reproduced as follows:

Sexual harassment means: request for sexual favors or order sexual or written sexual remarks or physical conduct of a sexual nature or sexually harassing activities, making a person or persons with such performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment; or the attempt to punish the complainant for refusal to comply to such a request or to make a complaint for employment.

D. Meeha falls under the definition of 'Employee' provided in Section 2(1) of the Act:

'Employee' means a regular or contractual employee, whether employed on daily working basis or hourly basis, and includes an officer or an supervisor; and Clause (1), cannot be used as the basis for excluding her from this definition.

E. A clause in a contractual agreement cannot supersede a statutory right, unless that clause gives the same or a better benefit than the statutory right. In this case, the clause in the contract does not give a better benefit than the statutory right.

Therefore, the Governor's Order and the Judge's Order are illegal, discriminatory, and unlawful.

1. The Governor's Order is illegal, discriminatory, and unlawful.

2. The Judge's Order is illegal, discriminatory, and unlawful.

3. The Governor's Order is illegal, discriminatory, and unlawful.

Women are touched inappropriately, get sleazy texts/ calls and get cat-called without their consent everyday in Pakistan. 'Consent' is the main difference here. If she consented to it cannot be harassment. But if she says 'No' even once then its harassment. Men in Pakistan don't get consent.

6) Plus, everyone working on Teefa In Trouble have already been paid. Their work is done. So boycotting is not unfair to them but it is unfair to @itsmeeshashafi and the other 6-7 girls who are still dealing with the aftermath of the harassment. #boycottteefaintrouble

7) All the money that will be made from the cinemas goes to Ali Zafar's production house. So again, how is it damaging anyone else's career?

8) @mayaali07's tone-deaf saying Ali didn't harass her so he can't be a harasser. I'm really glad he didn't harass you and you didn't have to live with the agony of being harassed by one of the biggest stars in Pakistan. So happy for you, Maya.

9) Lets talk about all the PR @AliZafarsays has been doing since Meesha Shafi spoke up:

1) Started the Ali Zafar Foundation for "women's rights"

2) Spread rumors that Meesha Shafi is in Canada, when there is literal footage of her at @pepsipakistan #boycottteefaintrouble deenz82 Tobah...what are you @official_mayaali? Do you have any notion of how cringeworthy and just sickening and frankly....weird your comments, behaviour and need to chipko to him are?! Im not quiiite sure why you feel the need to fall all over this man and what exactly the deal is....but let me just say, you aren't doing yourself ANY favours with the public who would actually watch your productions. This man 'helped' you thru one movie na.. The public have to 'help' and build your entire career.. And you are NOT coming off well. I mean theres a way to even show support if you must, the way youre going about it is frankly pretty unbelievable and just...silly tho! Haha and just shows your immaturity, insensitivity, and honestly, isnt at ALL befitting of a lead actress...much less a "Star" deenz82 And you people wonder why sexual harassment and abuse is so rampant in pakistan!!! You give someone accused by multiple women an award as pride of pakistan!! What a sick sick joke. Disgusting. What about all the women!? Really, open your eyes and know that if youre going to ignore all the women who complain and award the accused harasser at the same time- then seriously, shut up and welcome harassment as a product of the problem you've created!! You deserve it.

sallzjay22 @rabiyanishat12 I'll explain it to you. And if you don't believe me I urge you to go on google and read the accounts of abused women and rape victims even. When a women is abused in any way, the first feeling is that of trauma and shame, this is something that women try to suppress (and it happens to confident women and shy women, it's just a physiological reaction) for example women made movies with Harvey Weinstein after they were abused, why ? Shame. Shame and the need to carry on with your life as tho nothing's happened, you can counter check this in medical journals too. Secondly half these people don't manage their own accounts, they're for publicity. Now your publicist calls you and says 'should I post this picture ?' you have two options, tell your publicist your shame or just let them post, I mean it's just a picture, no big deal right ? But then it happens again, and again ... and again. Depending on the kind of person you are you carry on with life but everyone has a breaking point. Smile for a picture vs start this ENTIRE controversy ... what would you do ? Picture is a second of your life, controversy like this is your whole life. Think about it, then judge. Women from harassment victims to rape victims live with their abusers every day at work, in family and socially as well, sallzjay22 Will you propositioning women for your client to grope over eid ? Dirt individual.
